Undoubtedly, Stalin has again moved in a practical way to inaugurate a new era in soviet life, and, as in the past, he has adapted communist policy to the conditions of the moment. With a few words he crystallized a slowly developing tendency for greater personal initiative in Russia and put it into effect.

... serve Welch's as the morning fruit for just one month—then check results

REAKFAST, neglected by so many as a distasteful ordeal, can be the most zestful meal of the day. Welch's, with its concentrated goodness of full-ripe Concord grapes, its cheery bright purple, its exciting fragrance, captivates sulky morning appetites and starts digestions working contentedly.

Welch's is Nature's most delightful tonic-food. It unstintingly supplies the mineral salts, neutralizing acids and fruit proteins which build up bodily vigor. Yet it does not add an undesired ounce to the weight. In Europe they call this the "Grape Cure."

Science and experience enable Welch's to bring you the exact equivalent of fresh vine-ripened grapes, regardless of season, every day throughout the year. It is fruit in the most convenient form. There is no squeezing, no preparing. Welch's is pure and rich. Many prefer to dilute it one-third to onehalf water. It is pasteurized grape juice bottled under rigid laboratory control.

Now is the ideal time to put Welch's to the test. Drink it before breakfast, with your meals and between meals. Here is a Spring tonic that will bring you a new surge of life and new enthusiasm.

Curtis, Lyle, Johnson and Barrett; Nay, Aldermen Millican, Huiet, Reymolds, Gilliam, Richards, Councilmen Dodd, Marler, Wells, Beck, Drennon, Foster, Rantin and Jenkins.

On the Stone Mountain condemnation paper, Councilman Drennon wanted to know "where the money is coming from for us to go out in another county and take this property?" Councilman Ellis Barrett, of the thirteenth ward, declared the Stone Mountain charter amendment to be "the most foolish paper in my experience in council." Barrett said he is for the memorial, "but why pass the buck to the city when it is not Atlanta's duty to build the memorial." He declared that "we are hollering bankruptcy, and we business men admit that we can't run the city, and now we must go way out mio another county and condemn the man's mountain. All of the southern states should unite and build the memorial."

Mayor Key said that "it will be a most disappointing thing if we do not build the memorial. It was undertaken by us as a community and we failed after squandering hundreds of thousands of dollars. The cost of the property is negligible; it has no value as a commercial property, and the condemnation should not cost much. The memorial is one of the greatest projects in the world.

I passed through one little European country recently where they didn't have daylight saving time. No harm came to me, nothing unusual happened either, but I cannot find, upon returning to France that I can do any more work in this country where daylight saving does exist. Sometimes I think that daylight saving is but another indication of the perverse temper of our times that opposes all that is good, true, wise and beautiful, and that thinks that because this age has invented a large number of beggarly, trumpery, claptrap machines and contraptions it is wiser than all past ages, and must necessarily discard all the wisdom and achievement of the past.

The old wisdom, the true wisdom, I passed through one little Euro

Just what is a brass specialist, yo may ask. Oh, dear, must I explain that all over? Well, listen: A brass that all over? Well, listen: A brass specialist is almost any physician or healer who is far enough away or sufficiently stand-offish and pretentious to take from 50 to 100 berries out of the snob where an honest family physician would render the same or better service for $10.

The surtax is a fair price for the affectation.

There are a few real specialists in practice, very few indeed compared with the epidemic of brass ones that scourges the country. A real specialist is a doctor who has served his apprenticeship in the ranks, in genral practice, a family physician. at least five or ten years, and then, having laid a solid foundation and found out what his own aptitudes are or what branch of work he seems best suited for, returns to school and pur private practice and announces to his medical colleagues only (not to the public) that his practice is now chosen. His work comes mainly from his colleagues who recognize his honest attainments or ability in his chos en field and refer patients to him or call him in consultation whenever they feel his counsel may be advanta-geous for the patient. His opinion, advice or treatment is carried out considered by the patient's physician, the family physician; it is not given to the patient directly, unless the family doctor requests it.

"In the limited time since last meeting of general council your committee has endeavored to go into the conditions of each city department and we have secured considerable informa-tion from both the employes of the city government and people outside of the city government. We will endeavor to submit to your honorable body our recommendations regarding each department in the city govern-ment. It is our opinion that this work over an amount of $200 for small repair work should be done by contract. The cost of sewer work is costing anywhere from 30 per cent to 60 per cent more to be done by the city than by contract. A strik-ing illustration of this is brought out in the Lloyd street trunk sewer on which the city engineer made an estimate of $200,000. The county agreed to do this work if the city would tur, over $100,000. This the city did and the county advertised for bids and the sewer was laid by J. B. McCrary Company at a total cost of $109,000. If this work had been done by the city it would without doubt have cost $200,000.

When he read some statesman's declaration that armies were necessary to protect nations from envious neighbors, he exclaimed: "How ut-terly absurd! The different states in our Union get along without armies. Cities compete without armed forces. The nations could live together in peace if they would. They think armament necessary because never have tried a more civilized way. They could settle disputes in court as private citizens do. They go to war instead because they have armies and fleets ready for use. Let them disarm and thus remove the temptation to rely on force and they will find it a simple matter to settle all differences by arbiration.'

Bill toured the country preaching the faith that was in him and won so much renown that a political party in need of a candidate offered him the nomination for the presidency. And he was elected.
"Now," said Bill, "I have power enough to lead the nations of the world in paths of peace."

"Department of Law—This department consists of city attorney, two assistant city attorneys, two investigators and two stenographers, the cost of salaries being $20,700. Your committee knows very little regarding the law department but we the superintendent of motor transport.

The drivers of all city equipment be under cannot help but feel that the expense is high and the city should not pay the salary of but one stenographer. This would effect a saving of $900. Your committee also wishes to call attention to the increased humber of claims which the city is having due to reckless driving of some of the city drivers and in some cases the same drivers have had as many as three accidents from December to March. It might be of interest to the members of council to know that during the year 1930, 254 accidents were reported to the law department and a very large portion of this was motor equipment belonging to the city. The total number for January and February last year amounted to 33 and for Jan. accidents from December to March. Your committee feels that some action should be taken toward making the city employes responsible for such accidents and pay for damages and this will certainly have a tendency to make them be more careful in driving.

Eliminate Duplication. "Department of Comptroller—This office has 10 employes. The pay roll amounts to $28,620. This can, of course, be materially decreased provided the legislature passes a bill to reduce the membership of council from 39 to 18, which was voted by the people in the last general election. This saving would amount to $11,700.

"Department of City Clerk—Your committee feels that the duties of city clerk should be to act as clerk of council, city registrar and perform other duties of that office other than handling of license. By placing all license under the tax assessor (division of revenue) and installing central relations and matchine equipment the clerks and one inspector at a total saving of $6,900. This department at present carries 38 men, which include 5 blacksmiths, 2 bookkepers, 12 mechanics and 4 foremen. Your committee feels satisfied that there can be abolished in this department assistant bookkeeper, two blacksmiths and two mechanics. The saving in salaries will amount to approximately $9,500.

By the installation of the bookkeeping machines and revising the present system in the comptroller's office it is our opinion that three clerks can easily be eliminated at a net saving of $6,000 per year.

there are entirely too many telephones in the city government and serious consideration should be given to the cutting down on the number of telephones throughout the various city departments.

Pension Changes Asked.

"Department of Pensions—This is handled under the comptroller and your committee simply desires to call attention to the fact that serious consideration should be given to revising the pension law. The general pension law passed in 1927 in our opinion within the next 15 or 20 years will come very near bankrupting the city the present law.

"Department of Police—Your committee feels that one clerk now in the employ of the department should be abolished as there is not sufficient work for the number of clerks. Your committee also feels that the recommendation of the chief of police in abolishing one captain and one lieutenant should be done. The chairman of this committee opposed this several months ago but feels without question that same should be done. The saving will amount to approximately $6,000. This would save better than $4,000

"Department of Recorder's Court-"Department of Recorder's Court—Salaries in this department amount to $11,700.00, consisting of two recorders and two clerks. Your committee recommends the abolishing of the 4:30 o'clock court and the establishing of a traffic court in the downtown section. The two recorders could alternate in the different courts. The establishing of a traffic court would in the opinion of the committee result in the taking in to the city treasury of many thousands of dollars not now being received.

"Department of Chief of Construction, Office Division—The office pay roll in this department is $90,000.00. Your committee has given more time to this department than practically any other and in the general office pay roll we recommend the following be cut:

On the construction department pay roll there is carried under the disposal plant a party by the name of Morrow, night watchman. This party for some time has been employed watching a small amount of sewer pipe on Glennwood avenue. For a number of years the city of Atlanta has paved a number of streets without expense to the property owners. Practically every member of this committee feels that this practice should be abolished for this practice should be abolished for the present and that the city repair money be used in the repairing of streets and not the paving of streets. streets and not the paving of streets. It might be of interest to the general council to know that last year several hundred thousand dollars was turned over to the city to pay the city's share of paving Berkele street in the second ward. With the amount of street work now going on or that will go on in the next few years we cannot conceive of this number of men being carried on the pay roll. By putting in centralized control and the use of complete machine equipment there could easily be abolished 10 clerks could easily be abolished 10 clerks and possibly more at a saving of not less than $15,000. "Department of Health—Your committee has given serious consideramittee has given serious consideration to this department and after going into same very carefully it is our recommendation that a good portion of the health department can be consolidated with Grady hospital. Your committee can see no reason for a salary of $2,400. There is absolutely no need of a superintendent of nurses and from the information we have been able to secure thise 18 nurses, and from the information we have been able to secure this number can be cut to 12 without any trouble. There are at the present time 18 nurses, and from the information we have been able to secure this number can be cut to 12 without any trouble. Cut for Library.

"Department of Carnegie Library—Salaries in this department are approximately $76,000. Your committee is thoroughly aware of the importance of this institution but we feel there is a considerable 'number of clerks not necessary and we, therefore, recommend the abolishing of seven assistant librarians and four binders. We are of the opinion that the binding work can be let out by contract at a much smaller figure than what it is costing at the present time. We estimate the saving in this department at least $14,000.

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 7, 1931.

Down south again-where it is cool! What fun During the burning heat and smothering humidity of Cleveland last week, your press representative was moving languidly around in a linen suit and standing the pressure fairly well.

But men in blue serge and brown tweeds looked at him curiously, mopping their brows and muttering in their beards. They carried their heavy coats over one arm; the coat made a wet spot on their shirt sleeves. They were suffering, yet apparently never thought of wearing light clothing.

Windows of clothing stores displayed woolen suits of the weight we wear here in winter. Flannel trousers and sport coats were the coolest things displayed. Apparently the men folks do not dress coolly because they cannot buy cool suits.

He will be hailed as a hero who introduces linen suits to the middle west and persuades folks to wear them.

BOBBY MISSES THUNDERING HERD.

Bobby Jones never will know what it is to trail a golf match as one of a gallery of 10,000. He will attend national golf tournaments as a spectator, but there will be no more 10,000

Since Bobby retired galleries have fallen away to just a few thousands. Those who attended the open in Toledo this past week report that less than half the usual number followed play. The big kick has gone since the Young Marster signed off.

Imagine a double play-off such as Von Elm and Burke staged with Bobby as one of the players—what a show! Yet relatively few witnessed the epic battle.

TOO BAD.

Twenty Grand is out for the season, says a news report. The greatest race horse of the year and perhaps of recent years will be taken out of training on account of an injury to his back.

Twenty Grand was just too good to be true. What a record he might have made this year!

However, he has earned the 3-year-old championship and may go on to race for years as Exterminator did.

My Dearest and Only Brother:

Today you enter the ring for the eighty-first round of your battle with old Daddy Time. For 80 full rounds you have stood toe to toe in gallant battle with the most experienced and crafty old general the ring has ever known. He has fought millions on millions of antagonists and few—very few—of them have been able to stand off his experience, his craft, his absolutely merciless attacks, his mighty wallops, his fierce upper-cuts, his wild ings and his rabbit punches, but always his fair fighting wind

You, my brother, may claim to have made a gallant stand against the greatest ring warrior of the universe. You have met his blows by blows and never a foul has been suggested by either side. You have been knocked down, but not out. Thus far you have been able to respond to the bell every time. May you keep up the fight for as many more rounds as you may desire and when the final count of 10 is tolled may your share of the purse be enough to carry you to the heights of the blessed.

Twenty Grand, one of the greatest thoroughbreds since Man O' War, today joined Jamestown and Equipoise on the sidelines of the three-year-old turf battles as the result of wrenching the back in when the sailva is no indication. There is an office down the street where there is a man who owns dogs, has two kennels of them in fact, and so in a few minutes I am in his office ice. Because in addition to dogs he has in his office ice water in large quantities and very often has cold bottles of a well-known soft drink stuck down in the ice. Although Trainer James Rowe said the injury is one from which Twenty Grand will recover within a comparatively short time, there is no chance that the big bay champion from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable will go west for the $75,000 Arlington Park classic, July 18. Unless the injury to the lumbar muscle on his right side readily responds to treatment, the son of St. Germans will be thrown out of training for at least the Saratoga season and probleast the Saratoga season and prob-ably for the remainder of the year.

With Twenty Grand on the sidelines, A. C. Bostwick's Mate, conquerer of the tileholder in the Preakness and winner of the American Derby, shapes up as the most probable winner of the classic. Jamestown, the 1930 juvenile champion, is laid up for a long rest while Equipose has not fully recovered from the quarter crack, which caused his withdrawal from the Kentucky Derby on the day of the race.

Twenty Grand's injury also strikes a blow at the colt's chances of passing Gallant Fox as America's leading money winner. The Greentree star has won $175.575—far short of the Fox's record of $328,165—but was considered a "sure thing" in the rich stakes of the late summer and fall.

"It is impossible to tell until the next 24 or 36 hours whether it will take two or three days or ten days to two weeks for the injury to heal," said Trainer Rowe today.

The champion's time for the mile and one-half was 2:34 2-5, five seconds short of the track record, but

QUICK CHANGES.

The 72 holes of playoff contained lightning-fast changes in standing, but the changes' today were by slighter margins than those of yesterday. The players battled closely for the first nine except at the second and third holes, where Von Elm led by three strokes. Burke gained during closing play of the morning. But Von Elm was one up when they went to luncheon.

The easterner gained a two stroke lead on the third hole of the afternoon round. From that point on Burke either held the lead or was tied INVERNESS GOLF CLUB, TOLEDO. Ohio, July 6 .- It is always a wonderful thing to crown a king who belongs on the throne. It is a Won Great Battle; Young great event to award the laurel when it has been more than doubly earned. And the scepter and the laurel of golf belong to Billy Burke, of Round Hill Club, Greenwich, Conn., for one of the most amazing exhibitions of skill, courage and endurance ever known in a game that goes back 500 years.

Mr. Rell J. Spiller, the Cracker businessman, packed his bag Monday afternoon and disappeared into the unknown seeking a ball player.

In the sort of open championship that has made golf history—and this sort dates back to King James, of Scotland—Billy Burke finished just one stroke ahead of George Von Elm, of the Rancho Club, Los Angeles, Cal., to stand as a worthy successor to Bobby Jones, who won the title a year and and then retired. In the sort of open championship that has made golf history-and them, as we say, agape.

The word is, however, that the Crackers could use a "B" pitcher right now. And the latest report of the sleuths was that R. J. Spiller was headed down toward the Palmetto circuit to see about young Johnny Carithers, the former southpaw star at the University of Georgia.

WHAT AN ERROR!

And it might be said that George Von Elm deserves another crown for the great fight he made up to the final green. Burke beat Von Elm by just one stroke this afternoon after 144 holes of competitive golf under high pressure where each man could feel that every stroke made with 292 each. They were still all square after they had played 36 additional holes in the close of the second control of the second control the sleuths was that R. J. Spiller was beaded down toward the Palmetto circuit to see about young Johnny Carithers, the former southpaw star at the University of Georgia.

WHAT AN ERROR!

It seems that the Crackers must have made a very grave error in turning the young, slim southpaw back, Because with Florence in the Pal? Palmetto league, be has won 14 ball games and lost 3. Winning 14 ball games and lost 3. Winning 14 ball games before July 4 is quite a feat in any league.

So many people have written him letters about the hoy that he is going to take a peep. To stop the letters, if nothing else.

Johnny Dobbs was interrupted in his siesta at Nashville. Tenn., to talk about his ball club. John was panting from the heat.

Nashville is builded on a limestone rock bed. It begins to accumulate heat in May and by July is throwing off heat, day and night, like one of those round-stomached stoves they have heat to have red hot in the army barracks. Maybe you were on the stove watch once and know.

Is you have ever played goir you simons, cf. 4 Action understand what this means. The strain was beyond anything known to competitive sport. The championship rode on every shot. Every drive along the narrow fairway, bordered by heavy rough, was important. Every second shot to closely trapped greens was important. Every putt on rolling treacherous greens was important. There was no chance to take things easy, no chance to rost a minute, and yet at the finish Burke beat George Von Elm after a battle of 144 holes by 589 strokes against 590.

These figures alone tell a classic story of golf—589 strokes against 590! Just think that over. That means all the credit in the world to both men, but it means even more to Billy Burke. He had played 30 rounds of St. Louis

The morning round was exciting because of the frequent changes in possession of the lead. It was marked by Von Elm's excellent driving and his ill-fated putting. He stayed much better in line than did his eastern rival.

The crowd was an unruly one and the marshals maintained a semblance of order only with the greatest difficulty. Spectators talked many times as drives, approaches and putts were heims made.

The morning crowd totalled scarcely more than 1,000, but there were sone round, and before play was completed there was a gallery estimated at more than 5,000.

So Burke was two up when they came to the 17th hole of the afternoon round—two strokes up and two holes to play against a game, skillful fighter who had refused to acknowledge defeat at any stage. Von Elm had missed three short putts during the day. He had missed an Sinch putt at the short eighth in Sinch put at the short eighth in the morning; he had missed an 18-inch put at the same hole in the aft-ernoon, and he had missed another 30-inch putt at the 16th hole in the

He had missed three putts of less than 30 inches, one only eight inches away, and he now was two strokes blick and two holes to play. At the 17th, the final lap, Burke was 40 feet from the cup and Von Elm was eight feet away. Yet Burke hit his putt up to within an inch of the hole for his four and Von Elm mist missed.

The final hole was a chapter for sportsmanship. Burke was leading by two strokes with only one hole left. Both were down the middle. Both were on the green in two. Von Elm was away and about 25 feet from the cup and he just missed his three. It was a fine and a brave finish. Burke, with three putts to win, after one of the most thrilling and one of the gamest opens ever fought, turned to H. H. Ramsay, president of the U. S. G. A., with this remark:

"I've got three to win. Here goes anywhere." He had missed three putts of less

He had two putts for a 70. I consider this one of the greatest exhibitions in all competitive sport when you think all the conditions. Burke you think all the conditions. Burke had played a highly competitive golf game for 16 days—enough to kill off two men. Yet he was still at the peak. He rapped his first putt six feet past the pin and then with the crowd cheering and all the cameras.

BURKE WRITES AS 'OPEN' KING

Caddy Inspired Champion in Match.

(Copyright, 1931, by The Associated Press.)
TOLEDO. Thio, July 6.—(AP)—
Well, I won the national open golf championship but I earned it.
George Von Elm gave me the greatest fight in the history of golf, a fight that lasted 144 holes and wasn't decided until the last hole. I knew I was in for a bitter battle with the fighter of fighters, but little did I realize that he had the stamina, the daring and the great fighting heart that he proved himself to have.
Why I won, I do not know, as

Why I won, I do not know, as there are so many breaks in the game, but I believe I had one thrill of inspiration that made me go on and on. When I came up to the tee, one shot behind, for the start of the afternoon round, a caddie about 15 years old tured nervolv at my shirt.

that much barder to win.

There was a lot of drama in that gruelling battle over Inverness, one of the toughest courses I ever played on. But the one thing that sticks in my mind now is that it was a fight without a single minute's letup all the way until I came to the last tee today with a two-shot margin. As I stood on that tee with the title I have dreamed of all my life in my grasp, I decided here was the place to play safe and sane golf. I relaxed and hit my tee shot easily. Then I pitched up high with a good back spin 20 feet of the pin, right next to George's second. Then I decided to three-putt the green to play dead safe. I rolled my first putt up about five feet of the pin, sent my second one two inches from the cup, and it was all over. For once George couldn't get his birdie on that final green, but I doubt if it would have done him any good, as I had all the confidence and coolness in the world just then, and could have got a four, I think, if it was needed. my mind now is that it was a fight

Drouth Boon to Prices

Drouth Boon to Prices
In Georgian's Opinion
THOMASVILLE, Ga., July 6.—
H. R. Banister, practical farmer and formerly one of Thomas county's legislative representatives, is of the opinion that Providence is taking a hand in reducing farm crops, where farm boards, co-operatives and other human endeavors have failed to get acreage cut down.

"But for the drouth and other happenings." says Mr. Banister, "farmers of this section would have gathered such large crops of melons, tobacco and other things that grow, that markets would have been glutted, and prices would have been glutted, and prices would have sagged far below production costs. The melon crop, in particular, cut short by an extended drouth all over the southern Georgia melon area, has been selling at prices that are profitable. If all the melons that first appeared on the vines had matured, it is likely prices per car would not have paid for the expense of loading."

of the federal farm board, to announce the board's policy in reference to stocks of cotton and futures contracts held by the American Cotton Co-operatives.

In its message to Mr. Stone the exchange suggested that if the "presection cotton planters will be disastrous and abnormally low prices will increase the distress now suffered by southern cotton producers.

The exchange said the heavy movement of the new crop will be felt within the next we momths and an adicision by the farm board on handling the board's policy is desirable.

Meeting the demands of the moderns, Miss Harrison gave Debussy's "Sunken Carledais" and Greffes "Night Winds." She closed her program with the first movement of the "Walstein Sonata," by Beethoven.

Many arctic experts have said there was a possibility that the six men as well as Amundsen and his aide, who disappeared after flying to the rescue of the Italia, may be found in the region of Cape Flora.

This hope is based on information supplied by the American explorer. It is considered certain that Amundsen, if he was able, made for the store, possibly taking the Italia survivors with him.

SLAIN MAN'S ESTATE OF $35,000 DIVIDED

KANSAS CITY, July 6.—(P)—J. Victor Schultz, attorney for Paul G. Webb, administrator for the estate of John G. Bennett, said today that Mrs. keeping the bidding open until they John G. Bennett, said today that Mrs. Myrile Bennett, acquitted for the slaying of her husband in a bridge game quarrel, and the collateral heirs of her husband, had agreed to a division of Bennett's estate.

Schultz said that with $25,000 in life insurance, Bennett's estate totaled approximately $35,000. Probate Judge J. E. Quinotte signed an order permitting Webb to withdraw two suits he had filed contesting Mrs. Bennett's claim to the insurance.

The attorney did not reveal how the estate is to be divided.

The collateral heirs include: Julia Neeley, niece, Covington, Ky. 5—A daring bid, not at all justified by the bidding between partners. It assumes too much. North's Double of the club might have been Double of the club might have been based upon the King-Knave tenace in clubs but South reasoned that if this were the case, North must have the Ace of spades. Support of the diamonds suggested short hearts, four diamonds and five clubs, which made the Slam try seem like a good gamble to a partnership far down on the losing side of the score pad.

-West's "Sporting Double," in the face of strong distributional values indicated by the opposing bidding, was flying in the face of Providence. After the disaster he stated that he expected, with his 3 1-2 honor tricks, including the King of hearts sitting over the adverse heart bid, to set the contract not less than 3 tricks. unless, of course, the declaring side is intentionally over-bidding for the pur-pose of maneuvering opponents into a contract that they cannot make or out of a game contract by way of a sacrificial bid.

Today's Pointer.

The Forcing principle commits the eartners with strong hands containing partners with strong hands containing suit bids to keep the bidding open un-til game is contracted for, the object being to select the best bid without risking a premature pass.

The Opening Forcing two-bid of a suit is merely a gigantic Approach bid. It tells partner that the Open-ing bidder has sufficient strength in his own hand to take full responsi-bility for committing the partnership to a movement toward game that must not stop until the objective of a game declaration is reached. TALKING IT OVER

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

My husband is jealous of my job and is urging me to quit work.

I get a nice salary which enables us to have many luxuries that I would otherwise be denied and also vacation trips which he enjoys as much as I do.

Before we were married he agreed that I might keep my position but after a few months he began to fret about it and now he nags me continually. He says it mortifies him to have people say that he cannot support his wife without her help. I hate to give up my salary and I hate to desert my employer who has been unusually kind to me. What is my duty?

BUSINESS WOMAN.

BUSINESS WOMAN.

One of the worst things a woman can do to a man is to damage his pride of possession and his pride in possession. It wilts him exactly as a hot day wilts a starched collar. If there is anything worse than a wilted collar that is supposed to be stiff, I don't know what it is.

It is easy to understand why a woman wouldn't want to give up a good position that increases her interest and pleasure in life. The luxuries and the vacation trips are not to be regarded lightly or relinquished easily. But if the price of peace at home is poverty, then she should pay it. If the price of her husband's pride is giving up her position, she should give it up. Do you know that a peaceful, pleasant home life is the most precious possession a man or a woman can have? No matter what you have to endure during the day, if you can come home in the evening or have your partiner come home in the evening to quiet contentment and comfortable comradeship, life is not a failure. On the other hand, if life at home consists of bickering and arguing and fencing for advantage, no matter what lies beyond the confines of that home, life is a miserable failure for its inmates.

The whole art of getting on with a person whether it's a husband or wife, friend or relative, is the art of knowing when to give and when to take. It is impossible to tell anyone how to master that art. Only experience will do that. There are some pretty good guides, and I shall tell you a few of them. Here they are:

When you are making the decision don't allow anything to blind you to the goal. The goal is peace and contentment and happiness. When you can't attain it by taking, you must attain it by giving. The giving cannot hurt you so long as you don't sacrifice pride and principle. That doesn't refer to false pride which is easily confused with the real article. If you take an advantage and appear to win temporarily but find you are robbing yourself of the big end, then reverse your decision and give. It will cost far less in the

A woman who has a kind employer owes him some duty, no doubt; but, if that duty conflicts with the desires and demands of her husband, her husband should have the first consideration. In this day and time when the lawyers tell us that the three great causes for marital disagreement and divorce are money, morals, and in-laws, a sensible woman should be willing to give up a few trips and a few luxuries, if by giving them up, she removes one of the three great hazards to marital happiness.

I am looking out on a group of surf bathers playing in the Atlantic ocean. They are all out for fun and they are trying to get in three ways. The little and timid stand ankle deep and let the waves come in to meet them. Others go a little farther and fight the waves as they brek on them. The experienced swimmers go out far beyond the white breakers struggling hard to reach the smooth surface outside the rough water. But once they get there, there is no fight but easy swimming beyond the swells. When those bathers want to come in to the shore the waves will carry them on a free ride.

This business woman is just out far enough to fight the waves but not far enough to swim comfortably beyond the swells.

PICTURE AT RIALTO ONLY FAIR COMEDY

The makers of "Meet the Wife. feature attraction now at the Rialto theater, had a good idea but they didn't get what they might have done out of it. It is the theme of a woman whose first husband—who faked his "death" to secure the much-to-be-de-sired freedom—turns up six years after she has married husband number two.

Number one still loves his wife and Number one still loves his wife and wants to undo his mistake by returning to connubial bliss, while number two is envious of the predecessor's freedom. So, of course, eventually they work the problem out.

But in doing so there isn't half the fun in the picture you might anticipate. Think the main trouble is in the cast. Laura LaPlante as the wife must be miscast—she has done supermust be miscast—she has done splen-did work in some pictures of the past but, in this one, you can understand husbands running away but not the first one's return Lew Cody as number one walks through his part, while Harry Myers as number two actually steals what honors are achieved in the picture.

Not bad entertainment but, frankly, not quite up to the standard the Rialto has been giving us.

However, all deficiencies in the feature are made up for by the cartoon comedy which is even better than such cartoon comedies always are such cartoon comedies always are. So, in the program as a whole, you'll get your money's worth without dis

The case reached the higher court on appeal by a Fort Smith druggist whose two slot machines were seized. During oral argument before the supreme court a week ago the two machines were brought into court for a demonstration and attorneys acted as players.

LITTLE muscles moving ten thousand times an hour. Little bodies, feverish with exertion and vibrant physical urge. Is it strange that exhaustion comes quickly; that meals seem ages apart? "Quick," says Mother Nature. "Build back these wasted cells." No time to change solid foods into usable energy. Hence comes the cry for sweets, but it's Mother Nature speaking, after all.

Sugar is Nature's quickest energy food. In this liquid form it is practically predigested. Just an ounce between meals is enough. To avoid excess, dilute it with pure water for bulk and add fruit juice, extracts and essences to promote palate appeal. Too much trouble! you say? Well! so it is, for busy mothers, but not for us. Dr. Pepper is ready made. An ideal nourishing sweet,

Now Flammchen recognized her mistake. Everything came back to her and she sat straight up in bed.

"Forgive me," she whispered. "But something so awful has happened."

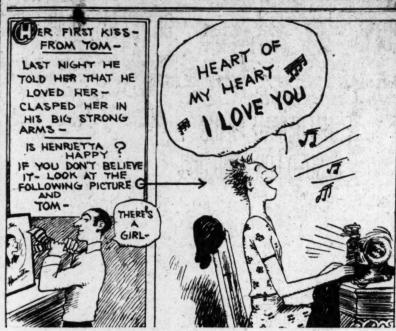

She began to cry. At once Kringelein's eyes filled with tears too, and his lips, which still smiled, began to tremble.

Her tears came in a flood that soothed and appeased her. Kringelein looked on, and the corners of his suppressed emotion. At last he put his hand on Flammchen's neck. "There, there, there," he said, "there—there—there," he said, "there—there—there," he sid, "there—there," he sid, "there—th

The 1,000,000-share turnover in stocks was the smallest since June 17. After numerous losses of 2 to 4 points in early trading, the market took courage from the continued optimism at Washington and regained much of the decline. However, prices sagged again in the last hour and the average net loss was slightly more than a point.

United States Steel, which closed last Friday at 105, was down 2 1-4 at its lowest and has never quite made up its decline. The last sale was at 103 3-4. American Telephone, after fully recovering a 3-point drop, closed 17-8 lower and there were net declines of 1 to 2 in American Can, Bethlehem, Woolworth, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Sears Roebuck, Case, Consolidated Gas, International Telephone, Atchison, Southern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio. National Biscuit broke to a new low for the present shares, influenced by reports of smaller earnings. Alaska Juneau had pool support and rose 2 points. General Motors and Chrysler at one time showed small advances, closing about steady. Rails as as group were neglected. Coppers and oils eased a little.

Although Wall Street had not aban-

Although Wall Street had not abandoned hope for a settlement of the moratorium issue, it was somewhat concerned by the weakness of the German mark, and by the withdrawals at Berlin which that weakness reflected. Reports from Germany told of rather large losses in foreign exchange by the reichsbank, thus adding to the problem of maintaining a gold ratio which last week was only a tenth of a per cent above the legal minimum. The reichsbank's decision to use the $50,000,000 credit, granted here seven years ago to the gold discount bank, indicates that the $100,000,000 aid extended recently by several central banks was well below the netual needs. concerned by the weakness of the German mark, and by the withdrawals at Berlin which that weakness reflected. Copper prices appear to be the subject of some uncertainty, while the oil situation was confused by the posting of lower southwestern quotations. Preliminary reports said that crude production in California declined moderately last week.

Heavy movements of the new crop were influential in sending wheat prices down and rallies from the lows were narrow. Closing quotations represented net losses of 1-4 to 1 1-4. July corn advanced half a cent, but

Strength of Belgian, Swiss and Dutch exchanges was attributed to the withdrawal of funds from Ger-many, which amounted to about $44,000,000. Sterling and the Canadian dollar were heavy.

Money markets here showed no effects of the holiday demand and accommodations could be had "outside" at I per cent. Demand for commercial paper was slightly more active.

Rallies of some 8 to 11 points from the lowest, met a little more cotton which seemed to be coming from commission houses, however, and after holding fairly steady during the greater part of the afternoon, prices weakened early in the last hour. There seemed to be some Liverpool selling as well as liquidation by early buyers on the break which carried prices off to 9.93 for July and 10.42 for December, or about 24 to 33 points net lower. A sharp rally followed in the last few minutes, last prices showing recoveries of 9 to 11 points from the lowest on the more active positions.

TENNES & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Júly 6.—The extreme dullness which characterized today's seasion reflected the apparent decision of traders to await definite conclusions in the debt more torium issue before resuming aggressive operations. Attempts to stimulate activity on the upside met sufficient offerings to prevent any sineable progress beyond a partial recovery of early losses.

Sentiment is veering away noticeably from the optimism generated by announcement of the Hoover moratorium plan and is mow inclined to regard the agreement on this plan as establishing basis for improvement in world conditions which may take some time to become megurable.

LIVINGETON & CO.

NEW YORK, July 6.—After a low opening on disappointing foreign news, the market recovered quickly during the day and closed with only a moderate loss from Saturday's final prices. This performance must be regarded as definitely satisfactory in view of the fact that traders went home Friday with every expectation that the debt situation would be finally settled over the weeked. Besides this action in the face of adverse foreign news, the market must also be credited with indifference to the prospect of poor quarterly reports and some further recession in business activity during the present month.

CHICAGO COTTON RANGE.

DECLINE 21 TO 23 POINTS NEW ORLEANS, July 6.—(P)—Cotton was extremely quiet today and the course of prices was downward. Trading was restricted by the near approach of the acreage estimate which will be issued Wednesday. After showing declines at one time of $1.50 a bale the market rallied and closed at net declines of

NEW YORK, July 6.—The fact that speculators were disappointed that no definite announcement from Paris was forthcoming over the week-end, as had been expected Friday, resulted in a lower opening this morning. This was due, not so much to any large volume of selling as to lack of bids at the high prices of Friday, since opening transactions were not large, and volume for the day was smallest for some time. volume for the day was smallest lot some time.

The market is obviously marking time while awaiting further news. There were statements on the news ticker during the day that a definite agreement with the French was expected immediately, but traders seem disposed after previous delays to await completion of negotiations before reentering the market with any substantial amount of buying.

FENNER & BEANE. CHICAGO, July 6.—Wheat: Foreign markets including Winnipeg showed practically no change over our holiday and domestic conditions, particularly winter wheat movement dominated our action. As expected there was heavy accumulation of receipts at terminal markets, eight principal points outside of Texas having over 6,000 cars, but this total hardly as large as anticipated and compared with about 4,500 cars at week ago. Hedging pressure was heavy and fairly well distributed until near close when buying power was limited to buying against 25000 Cass J 1

NEW YORK, July 6,—After selling off to net losses of 24 to 26 points in the early trading today the market railied 10 to 11 points during the middle of the session and then suffered a decline into new low ground. Final prices, however, were about 10 points above the lows and 20 to 23 under Fridaly's close. Early selling which came principally from Liverpool, the south and local professionals was inspired by disappointing action of Liverpool and by private reports of good rains in central and eastern portions of the belt as well as disappointment over the hitch in debt negotiations. Trade interests, including spot houses and the far east, were principal buyers, though there was some buying by coops and by commission houses in the distant months.

NEW YORK, July 6.—In view of the sharp advance Friday afternoon which was based on the expectation of favorable news from Parls over the holiday, selling today was not as heavy as might have been expected.

One of the popular trading views of the near term market is that if accord between the United States and France is reached there probably will be a sharp burst of strength which will be utilized for realizing sales.

NEW YORK, July 6.—It is our view that the extreme dulness which develops in the stock market on moderate reactions denotes an absence of liquidation and selected issues are being held for the benefits that will eventually accrue from the concerted efforts now being laken to stabilize word economic conditions. The Hoover moratorium plan, the first step in this direction should be announced abortly despite temporary delays and other steps on the Hoover program. In

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS. Open High Low Close Close

BY JOHN F. BOUGHAN. CHICAGO, July 6 .- (AP)-Lowest 10,000,000 bushels, dearth of export ica had a further bearish influence, and so too did fresh refusal by the farm board to change its sales policy in regard to government financed wheat. Moratorium uncertainties and stock market weakness were additional bearish factors.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-4 to 1 cent lower; corn 3-4 to 7-8 off to 5-8 up; oats 3-8 to 5-8 down, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents advances.

Acting as a cushion for the fall of wheat prices was announcement that despite big arrivals from the harvest fields the United States wheat visible supply had increased but 1.203,000 bushels in the last week. Furthermore, the pressure of hedging sales was less pronounced than had been looked for indications being that domestic millers were absorbing large quantities of the new grain, counting as an additional handicap to bulls was favorable weather for spring wheat both sides of the Canadian boundary.

wheat both sides of the Canadian boundary.

Later estimates of the 1931 Canadian wheat crop. however, were increasingly pessimistic. A Chicago expert just back from a 4.000-mile inspection trip said Canadian field conditions were the worst he had ever seen, and that wheat production in the prairie provinces would be under 200,000,000 bushels. Price rallies based on such reports, though, failed to last, and 3,746,000 bushels decrease of the amount of wheat on ocean passage was also virtually ignored. Germany's wheat acreage was reported to show almost 1,000,000 acres increase.

These companies are no longer doubtful experiments. Seasoned by time, they have established over an average of 79 years their ability to operate successfully. They stood up bravely during dark days when the gas industry. was said to be headed for the ready now to share in the growth that lies just ahead. This expansion lies in domestic uses such as water heating, home heating, refrigeration, and wider use by the commercial field including retail establishments. In the industrial field, where gas supplies the need for accurately controlled heat, it is estimated that gas plants now supply only 10% of the German obligations were a center of interest. The 51-2s and 7s of the national government receded on steady selling until late in the session, when they recovered sufficiently to close with fractional gains. A few other German issues behaved similarly, although many others closed lower. Deutsche bank closed at a new low at 94 after unusually heavy sales. From above, Jana saw the four men of Pheli ascending. Knowing they were again upon the right trail she stood erect. She picked up a fragment of rock and hurled it down upon Skruk and his companions. "Go back to your swamps, jaloks of the low country," she cried. "The Red Flower of Zoram is not for you." To her left lay Zoram, but between lay a mighty chasm. Along its rim she made her way, unshaken by the frightful abyss

Constantly the mountain girl sought means of descent, for down this awesome gorge she knew she must go if ever she was to reach Zoram again. Pausing to seek a way, Jana had lost much precious time and now suddenly she was aware that her pursuers were close behind her. Again she sprang forward, leaping from rock to rock, but Skruk and his companions redoubled their speed. Jana glanced beneath, a tumbled mass of granite had formed a wide ledge. She glanced back. Skruk was very near. She must choose quickly.

HIGHLIGHTS OF WALL STREET

By CHARLES W. STORM. Editor, the News Service of Wall Street.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Development of an unexpected hitch in the Franco-American negotiations over the Hoover "debt holiday" plan found reflection today in a lower stock market. Wall Street went home Friday afternoon almost certain that the Hoover plan would e accepted, so that development over the holiday furnished an unpleasant surprise. The Street, however, continues hopeful and this accounted for the absence of any signs of weakness.

Business was on a light scale, the total turnover being one of the smallest for any full session this year. Lower quotations for stocks in Berlin and Paris caused heaviness at the opening here. Quotations of the pivotal stocks receded until losses ranged from 1 to 3 points.

It develops that there are many sold-out professional bulls in the Street. These traders got rid of their stocks last week on the belief that acceptance by the French government of the Hoover plan would be followed by a substantial reaction on the theory that the good news was out. These men are now in the position of being without stocks, although they believe that the market is in a major CONSTRUCTIVE ACTIVITY. A new and strong group is reported to have been formed in the stock of the General Motors Corporation and its action today, in showing a fair degree of activity and firmness in the face of a heavy general market, seemed to bear out the reports. LIMA, Peru, July 6.—(R)—The revolutionary tide which for more than a week has menaced the stability of the junts has turned against the rebels, according to latest official reports.

The spoils taken by the loyalist troops comprised armaments and many prisoners.

Those in close touch with the situation here consider that the revolt has received a coup de grace and that the insurgency has been finally quelled. It was anticipated that the uprising would dissolve during the stamped toward the jungle.
